

Orleans School Gives High Sign To Army

Allen Mace makes sure that Colonel James Lee, Sixth Army Disaster coordinator for California at Eureka, sees the sign welcoming him to Orleans Elementary School. Talking to Col. Lee is student Steve Marriott, while Principal Keith Sears stands by. The school reopened after Army helicopters airlifted equipment to replace that lost when the building burned down at the height of the Christmas week flood.